

Username or password is incorrect

Close

The above pop up gets displayed on the screen when the password is wrong or the login fails.

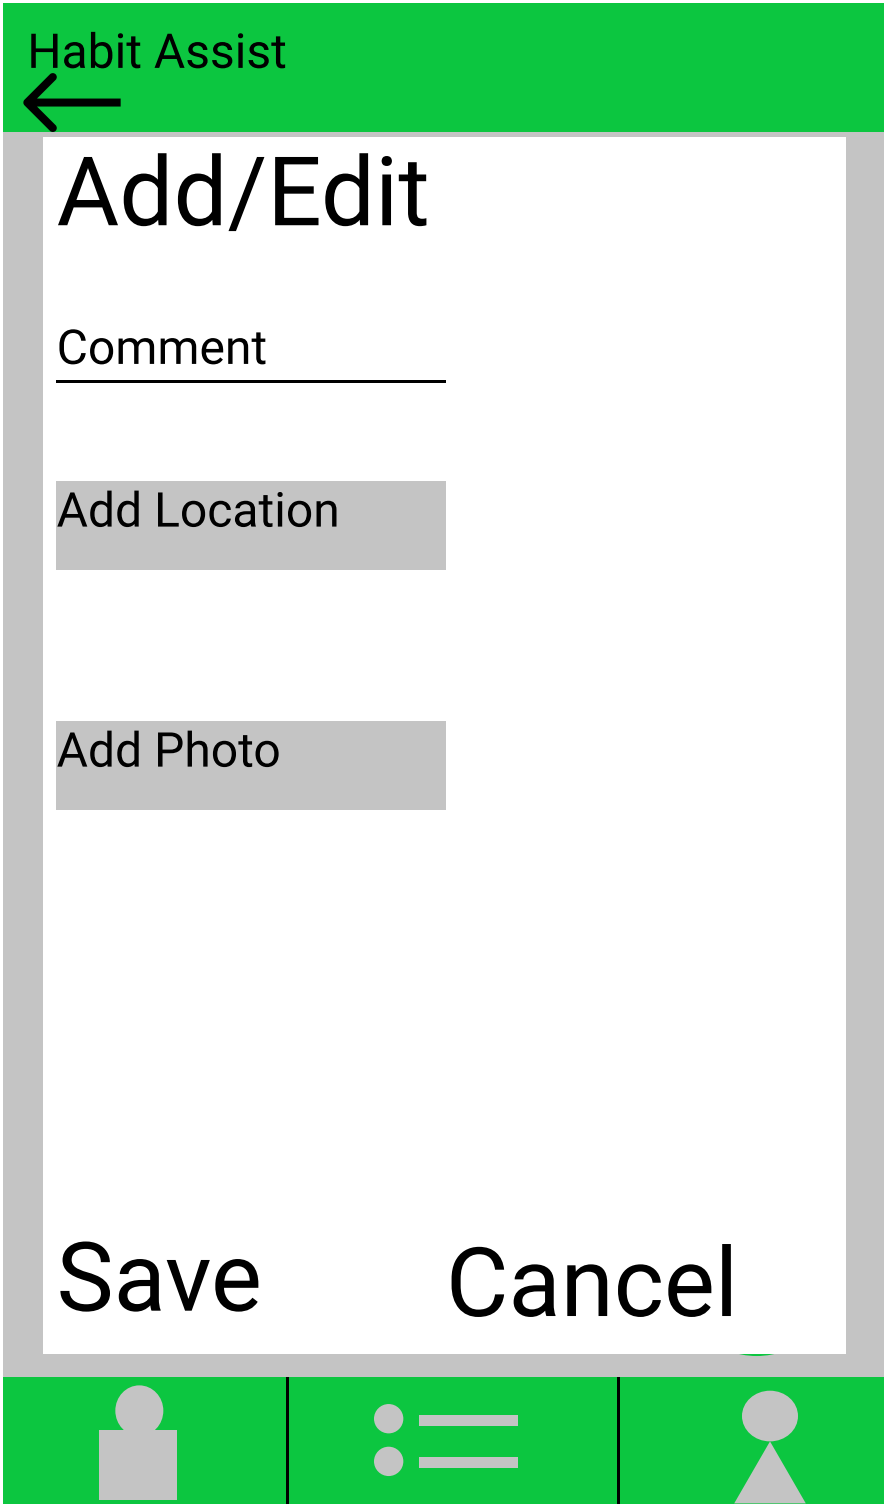

When the app is opened, application starts on the user sign-in page

This is our main page that is visible as soon as you get into the app. This displays our habits to do today and allows you to show if it is done

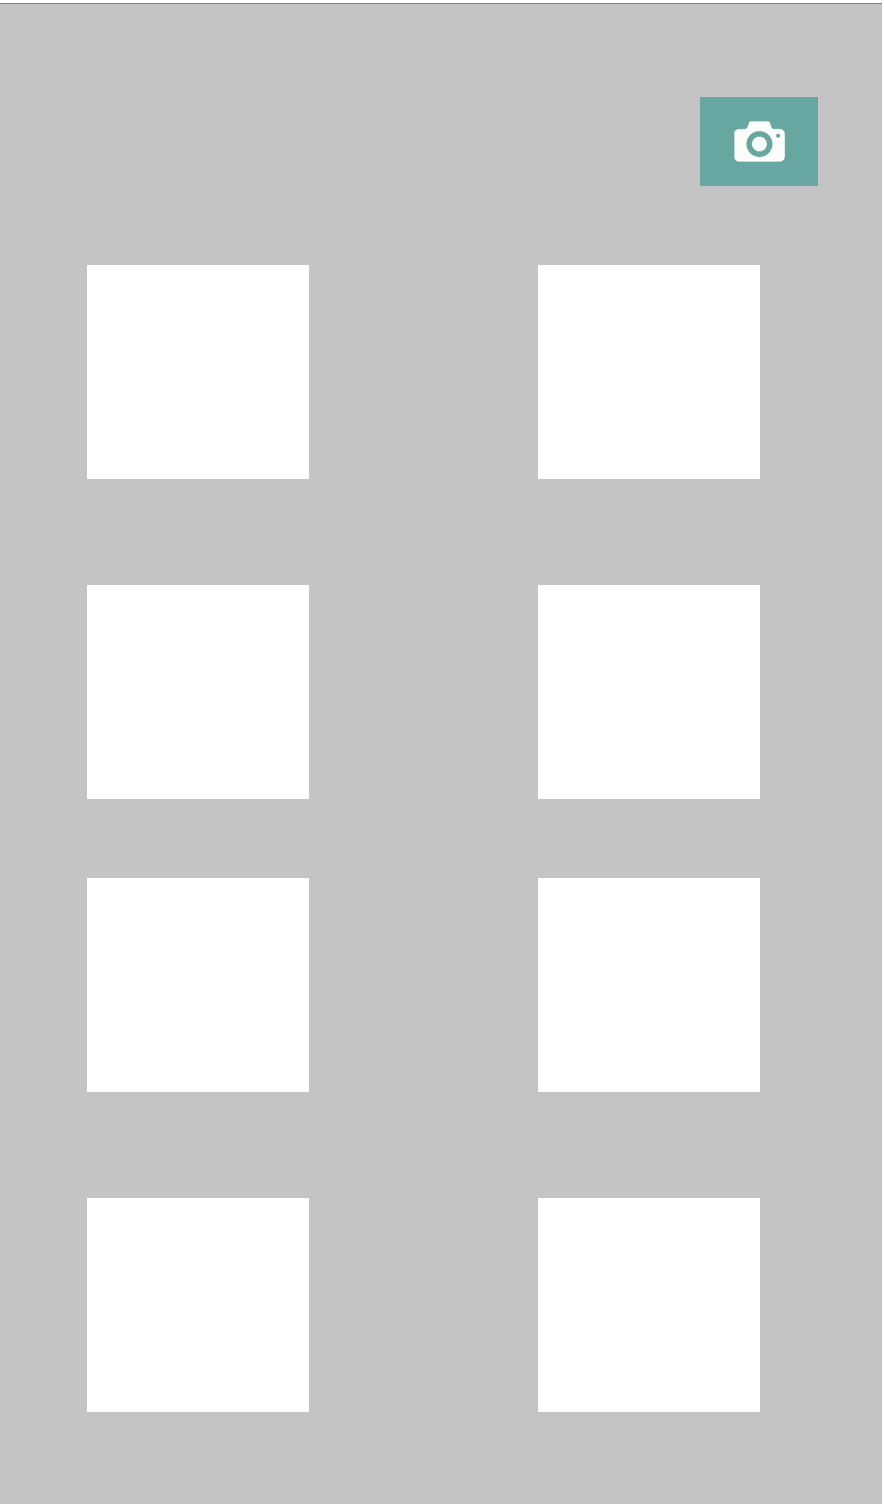

This is the individual habit page which shows its respective progress, details and allows us to edit and delete the habiit.

When the habit is done as planned, this pages allows the user to record it as a habit event by adding a comment, location, and a photo.

This page helps us select the location that the user wants to add.

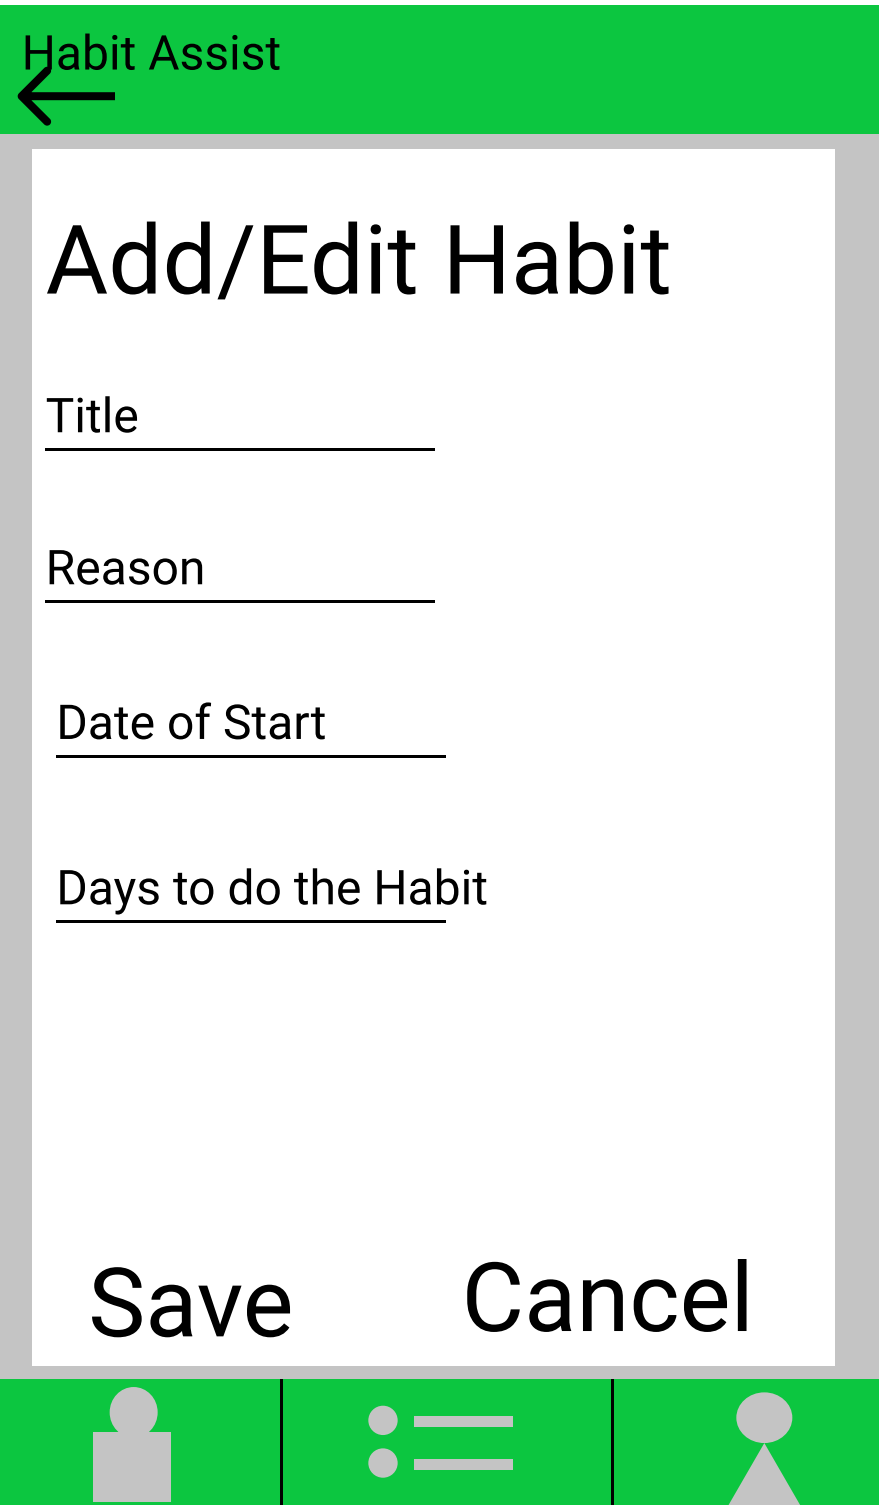

This page provide the user with an access of photos in his gallery or allows them to click the camera button.

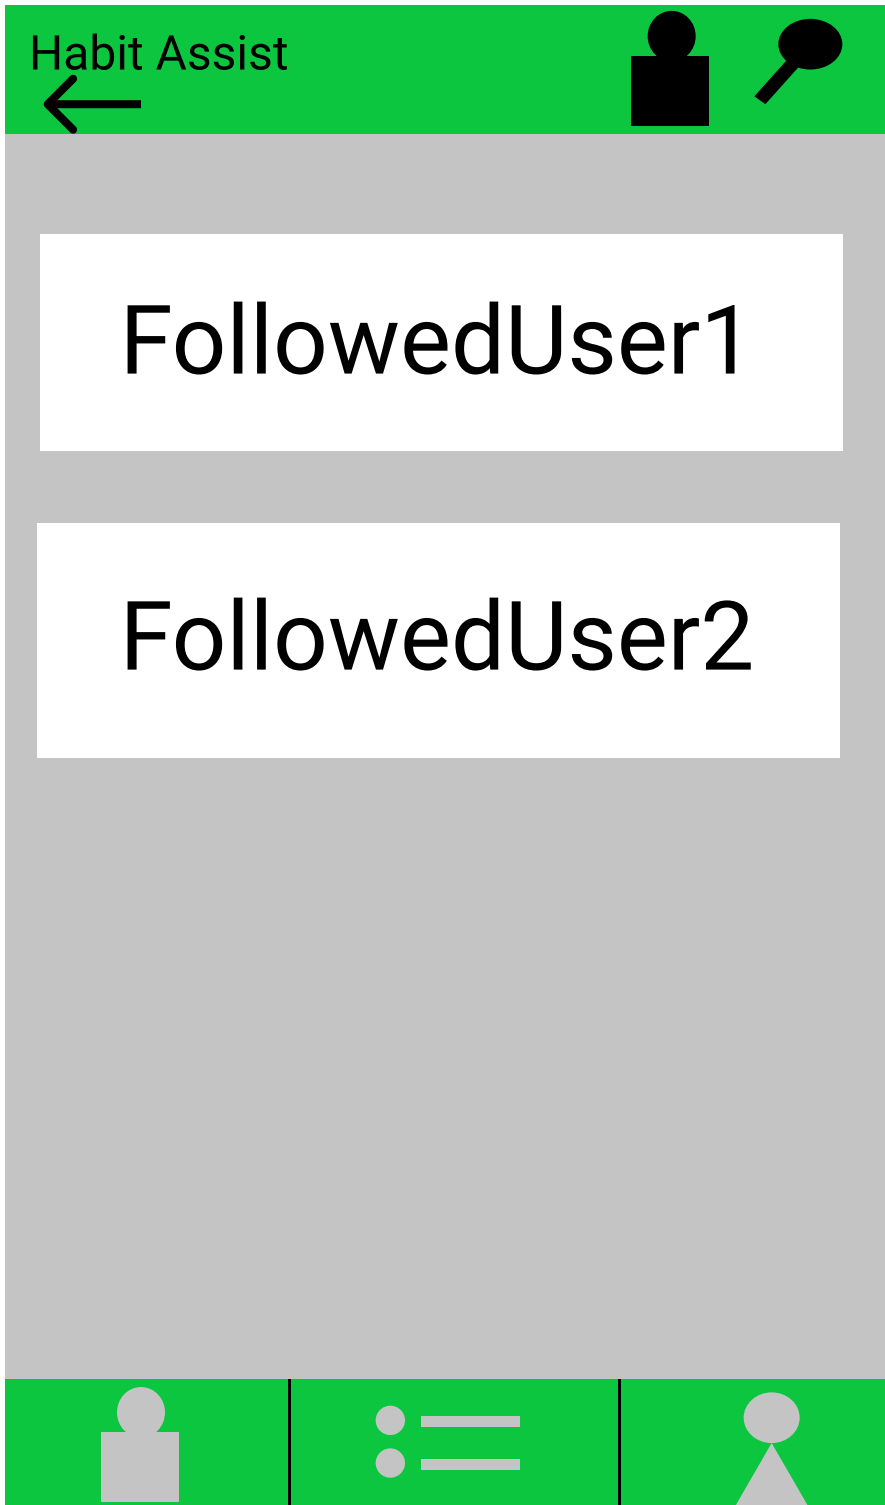

This page allows the user to click a photo so that it can be added as a part of the habit event.

This page lists the username and all the habits of the user. It also allows the user to add a habit as well log out from the application.

This page allows you to add a new Habit or edit an existing one.

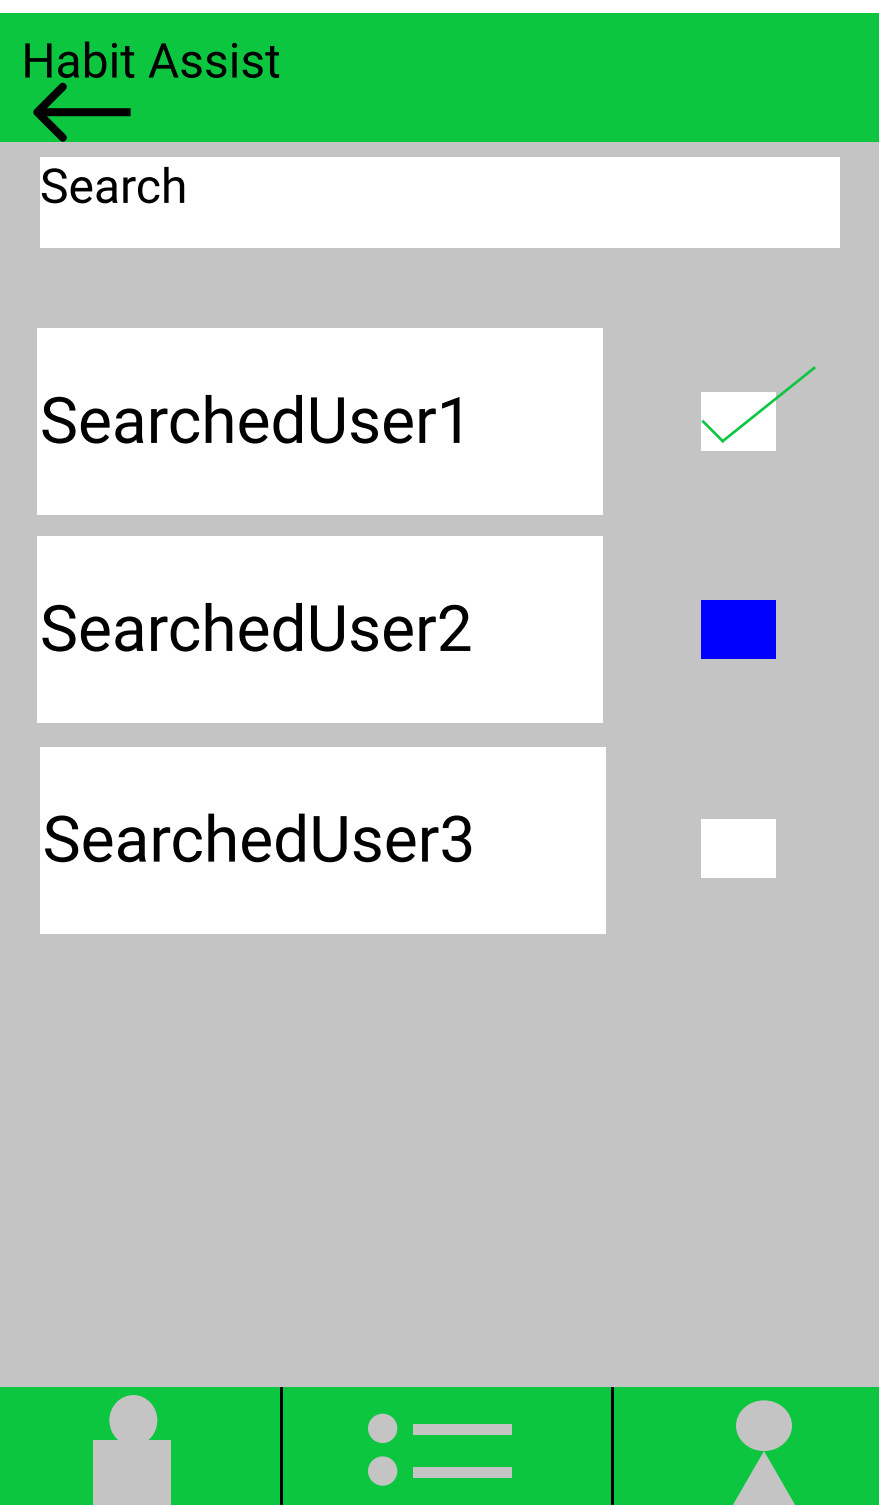

This page shows the users that I am following. Each user can be clicked to view their respective habits.

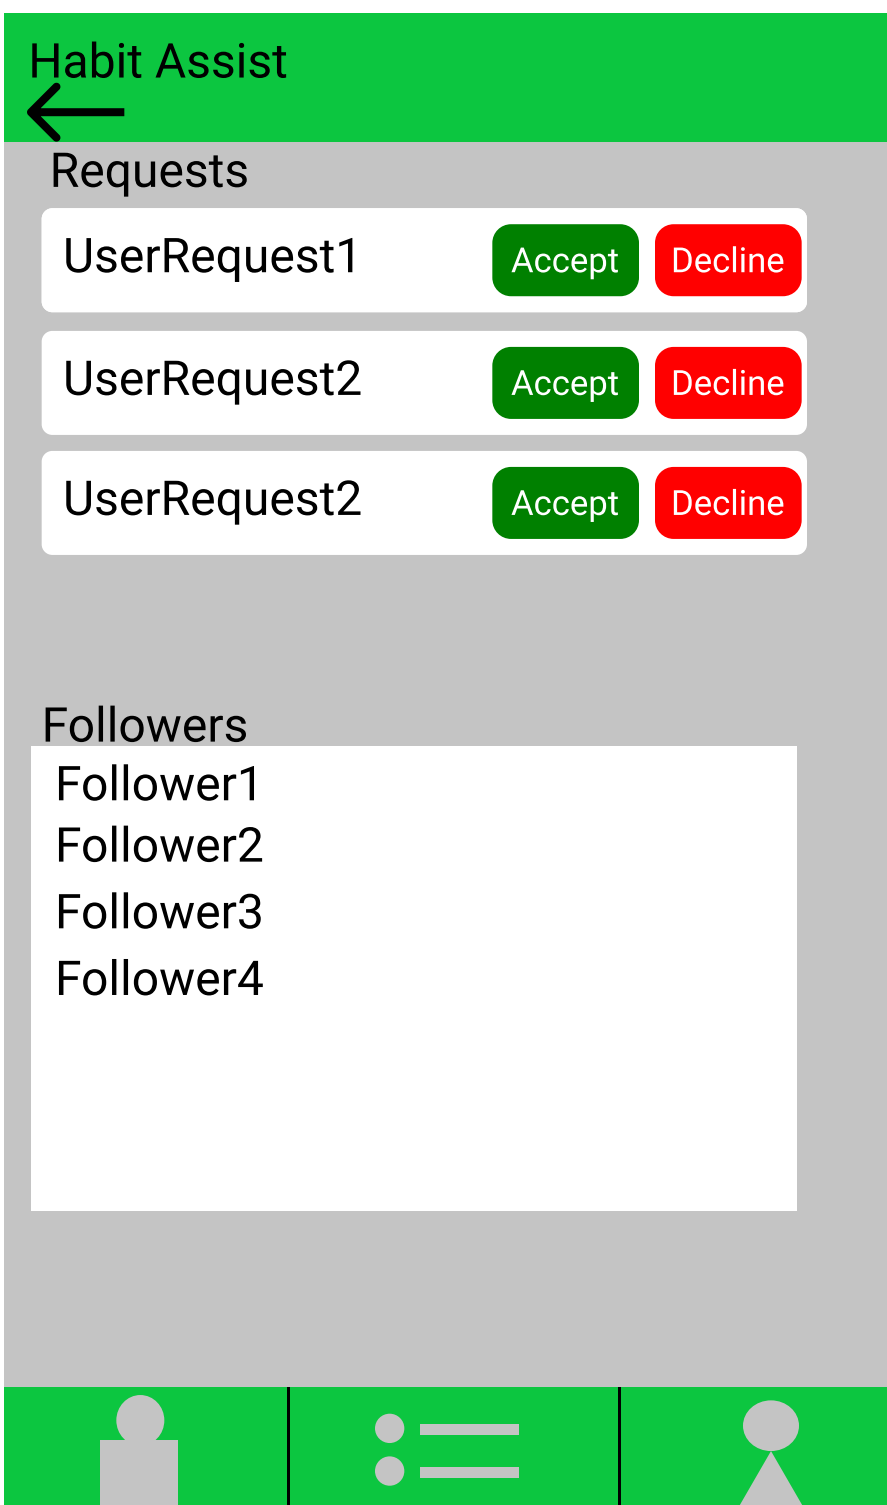

This page shows the username and the habits of the user that we clicked on, on the previous page.

This is the individual habit page similar to our own habit, but it doesn't let you edit or delete it because the habit belongs to another user

This page is used for searching for other users and sending a request to follow their habits. It also indicates the status of the request

This page shows a list of users that follow your habits and displays requests of users trying to follow you allowing you to accept or decline.